FLE Learning

FLE Learning seeks to develop the knowledge and skills of both public and private sector actors on key new developments and issues in the area of law, trade, business, finance and economics by organising a variety of events, such as conferences, courses, training, and workshops.

In the past year, FLE has successfully organised six international academic conferences in which delegates from over 40 different countries participated, including Afghanistan, Australia, Bangladesh, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, DR Congo, Estonia, France, Greece, Hong Kong, Hungary, India, Ireland, Japan, Korea, Kuwait, Lithuania, Malaysia, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nigeria, Poland, Portugal, Qatar, Romania, Russia, Saudi Arabia, South Africa, Spain, Sri Lanka, Sudan, Thailand, Turkey, United Kingdom, USA and Uzbekistan. FLE has also organised and provided various intensive onsite training programmes to public sector organisations and firms in the past year to develop and improve their controls and systems so as to ensure effective compliance with financial crime laws and regulations. Registered experts from the company also provided technical assistance to different firms to develop their risk portfolio by assessing various risks facing the firm and to update and improve the firm's internal controls and systems to efficiently detect and prevent potential financial crimes.

FLE (previously known as 'FLE Legal Education') was established in 2005 as the foremost provider of the Qualified Lawyers Transfer Test (QLTT) in the Indian Sub-Continent, and was set up with the support of the Law Society of England and Wales and the British High Commissioner, New Delhi. QLTT was conducted in India by FLE in conjunction with Central Law Training (CLT), UK, and successful completion allows practising Indian lawyers to be admitted to the Roll of Solicitors of the Supreme Court of England and Wales. The programme was launched in India to allow Indian lawyers to take this test while in their home country.

Things to DO in Cambridge

Number 1: see Cambridge University colleges in broad daylight

Take a walking tour in the historical city to absorb the sights of its medieval colleges. Imagine dozens of colleges which all belong to the umbrella of the University of Cambridge. The colleges have their own private lives too, but each college is part of the Cambridge University. If you are squeezed by time, or you want to get a general overview of the city of Cambridge, get on a hop on hop off bus and enjoy the informative audio tour in many languages. The highlights of the Cambridge University tour could be many of the colleges, but surely Kings College and Trinity College. Visit the King's College Chapel at Evensong to listen to the choir and gasp at the beauty of the cathedral sized 'chapel'.

Number 2: taking a boat tour on the River Cam, aka Punting in Cambridge

The gondola like flat bottomed boats are called punts, and taking punting tours are showing you another side of the city of Cambridge, the back of the colleges where the river Cam runs, simply called The Backs. The punting tours also include guidance and lots of fun anecdotes about Cambridge. Relaxing and definitely a must do in Cambridge. Punting tours are excellent on lazy summer days, but spring and autumn punters get blankets to shield them from the chilly weather. You will glide under the Bridge of Sighs by St John's College, as well as the Mathematical Bridge.

Number 3: the Fitzwilliam Museum, the art and history gem of Cambridge

Fitzwilliam Museum is not only free to visit (yes, it is totally free), but it is also a perfect little museum where you have seen everything within an hour, but still feel enriched with beauty and history. The museum has a nice cafe and a good souvenir shop to buy little Cambridge gifts.

Number 4: the Orchard – Tea House amongst Apple trees

The Orchard is a special English tea house. As the name suggests, the tea house tables and sun chairs are among the apple trees, plus there is a glass house in case you should come to Cambridge on a rainy day. We warmly recommend the fresh scones with teas. Meditative and relaxed atmosphere. Enjoy life, lean back, have a good chat. A favourite hangout of Cambridge students, locals, and tourists alike.

Number 5: the University Botanical Garden, plants, trees, nature

Natural beauty is abundant in the University Botanical Gardens, which is ideal for romantic couples, or families with children. Best in the summer time.

Number 6: Science and Tech Museums

There are various science and technology museums all over the city of Cambridge, so we will not pick one for you, but will present the major options: the Sedgwick Museum of Earth Sciences, the Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology, the Museum of Zoology, the Whipple Museum of the History of Science, the Museum of Classical Archaeology

Number 7: Scott Polar Research Institute

Humans are tough beings, with strong inner drives to explore the unknown. The The Polar Museum tells the stories of the polar explorers, who ventured into the North Pole and the South Pole. Diaries, grim photos, fateful trips to the Arctic and Antarctic regions.

Number 8: The Round Church Visitor Centre

The Round Church is not functioning as a church any more, but is open to visitors who delight in the painted glass windows, and of course the Round Church built in 1130 by the Normans (arriving from France in 1066). While most churches you can see in Europe are cross shaped, this is one of the handful of medieval churches which has a round shape (influenced by the round church of Jerusalem). The church is today a visitor centre and the hub of the Christian Heritage.

Number 9: Great St Mary's Church, the Catholic Church of Cambridge

Climbing to the top of the Catholic Church is one of the highest point you can get in Cambridge to see the city from a bit higher above. Besides the exceptional views, you can learn about the history of the old Catholic church, where once even Erasmus preached.

Number 10: Art in Cambridge

Kettle's Yard is one of the finest art galleries in the United Kingdom featuring modern and contemporary arts of work, and very nice concerts too! Cambridge Arts Centre and the Cambridge Arts Picture House should also be on your artsy things to do in Cambridge. The former is a small theatre with very nice performances, while the latter is a retro style movie theatre / cinema.

Note: Copy of the conference Programme will also be provided at the registration desk.
